@ANTGARGON96

To the FYEG's MOs, EC, Office and every activist:

The following words are a sign of motivation for the FYEG to enter its Executive Committee.

We live in a turbulent world, where discrepancies and disparities are a breeding ground for those who want a world divided and for their own benefit. That is why we must use politics as a tool for the well-being and coexistence of our fellow citizens. Create a Europe in which we can all have a place.

This was my motivation when I joined the Spanish Green Party (EQUO). My first activity as an activist within the party and its youth, the Spanish Green Youth (Red EQUO Joven-RQJ), was the celebration of the General Assembly of the FYEG in Madrid in 2017. After that, I have been very linked to this association that represents the European youth. I have participated in the realization of events such as the Be Brave! Green Europe! for the European elections, or even promoting the realization of the seminar It's Not Just a Transition. All this added to my participation in the FYEG work forums.

My experience within the FYEG as well as in the RQJ has shown me that it is possible to change the system from the inside and see politics from its broadest meaning which is a tool to achieve the welfare of the population. My motive in political participation is to transform society to make it more equitable, with greater economic, social and environmental justice, where the human and fundamental rights of the people prevail.

As I stated at the beginning of this letter, we live in a turbulent world, where we need clarity, care, and understanding in society more than ever. Creating a political, social and economic system based on care and putting life at the center is fundamental, and a source of motivation to work together with the colleagues of the FYEG Executive Committee and to represent Southern Europe in the best possible way.

Kind Regard,

Antonio G. González
